

BALANCED READING INSTRUCTION

Vol. 12, Fall 2005

AIMS & SCOPE

Balanced Reading Instruction is a professional, refereed journal published by the Balanced Reading Instruction Special Interest Group of the International Reading Association. The journal is published annually as a service to those interested in strengthening the teaching and learning of literacy for all learners, including learners for whom English is not a native language. The journal's mission is to improve the quality of literacy instruction, research, and scholarship and to disseminate the results of this work to the literacy education community.

The views expressed by contributors to Balanced Reading Instruction do not necessarily reflect those of the editors, the Editorial Advisory Board, the BRI SIG or its members. In addition, its content should not be construed to have the endorsement of the International Reading Association or its officers and members.
